Melbet Russia: legislation, terms and detailed reference

Gambling establishments and gambling zones

A gambling organiser may establish its own visiting rules, provided they do not conflict with this Federal Law.

A visitor breaching visiting rules established under this Federal Law must leave immediately when requested by the organiser's employees.

At the entrance to a gambling establishment, branch, bookmaker or totalisator betting outlet, or other gambling premises, the organiser must display, and supply on first request, its company name and the address and opening hours of the relevant premises. An accessible location must display this Federal Law; the organiser's gambling, visiting, stake-acceptance and payout rules; details of the bank guarantee securing obligations to players under article 6 part 10, including Civil Code article 368 paragraph 4 information and the documents required to demand payment under that guarantee; and the gambling-zone permit or copy, or the grant date and registration number of the bookmaker/totalisator licence.

2.1. At the entrance to a bookmaker/totalisator betting outlet, the organiser must display, and supply on first request, the procedures for applying to enter or remove an individual from the list of persons refusing participation in gambling.

Only the organiser's employees may organise and conduct gambling. Employees must be at least eighteen.

Gaming equipment used in the establishment must belong to the organiser.

The staff area, except bookmaker/totalisator betting outlets, must contain an employee rest room, a specially equipped room for receiving, issuing and temporarily storing money, and a security-service room.

Winnings are paid on presentation of identification, or another identification method provided by Federal Law No. 115-ФЗ of 7 August 2001, “On Countering the Legalisation (Laundering) of Criminal Proceeds and the Financing of Terrorism”, that establishes the player's age.

Six gambling zones are established in the Russian Federation. A constituent entity may contain no more than one. If a zone covers parts of several constituent entities, those entities cannot contain other gambling zones.

Gambling zones are established in the following constituent entities of the Russian Federation:

4.1. The Republic of Crimea's executive authorities determine its gambling-zone boundaries.

4.2. The Russian Government determines the Krasnodar Territory gambling-zone boundaries within land allocated for federally significant Olympic facilities whose financing and construction did not use budget allocations or Corporation funds, on proposals submitted by the territory's authorities.

Proposals for zones spanning several constituent entities are submitted to the Russian Government on the basis of an agreement between those entities' authorities.

Agreements between the relevant constituent entities' authorities determine management of cross-boundary zones, exercise of their taxation rights under Russian law, and distribution between their budgets of taxes and charges payable to constituent-entity budgets.

Gambling zones cannot have a limited duration. Before ten years have elapsed since creation, the Russian Government cannot abolish a zone or change its boundaries so that an organiser can no longer operate there, except a boundary change under part 4.1 locating the zone within the passenger terminal of Yalta seaport, Republic of Crimea, and cases provided by federal law.

7.1. A decision after ten years to abolish a zone or change boundaries so that gambling operations become impossible must provide at least three years between the decision and implementation. The organiser may continue under its zone permit until the deadline in the government decision.

7.2. Where abolition or such a boundary change is decided after ten years, losses of organisers or others owning or leasing land and/or buildings in the zone are not compensated.

7.3. If a federal law referred to in part 7 abolishes or changes a zone before ten years so that operations become impossible, actual damage to organisers or other owners/lessees of its land and/or buildings is compensable. The Russian Government determines the compensation procedure, calculation and documents proving costs incurred by those persons.

7.5. The actual damage described in part 7.3 is not compensated for a part-4.1 boundary decision locating the zone within the passenger terminal of Yalta seaport, Republic of Crimea.

Authorised constituent-entity authorities manage gambling zones (“zone management authorities”). An agreement between the relevant entities' authorities determines the management authorities for a cross-boundary zone.

1) They arrange interaction between state authorities, local authorities, gambling organisers and others in state regulation of gambling.

2) Under constituent-entity legislation or an inter-entity agreement, they transfer zone land into ownership or lease to organisers and other persons.

Organisers in gambling zones may form nonprofit associations to coordinate organisers with the management authorities of a zone and other state/local authorities (“associations of gambling organisers”).

Some zone-management functions may be transferred to an organisers' association by agreement, concluded under the procedure established by constituent-entity legislation or an inter-entity agreement.

When a zone is created, its land parcels must share boundaries and must not be held or used by individuals or legal entities, except parcels allocated to and occupied by engineering infrastructure; parcels for federally significant Olympic facilities financed and built without budget allocations or Corporation funds; and parcels within the passenger terminal of Yalta seaport, Republic of Crimea.

At creation, zone land may contain only state- or municipally owned objects not held or used by individuals or legal entities, except engineering/transport infrastructure, federally significant Olympic facilities financed and built without budget allocations or Corporation funds, and objects on land within Yalta seaport's passenger terminal in the Republic of Crimea.

Zone land and/or buildings are transferred into ownership or lease to organisers or other persons, except engineering/transport infrastructure and the land supporting it.

Zone management authorities transfer zone land into ownership or lease under constituent-entity legislation or an inter-entity agreement.

A gambling-zone permit authorises gambling operations in that zone subject to the requirements and restrictions in its establishment decision.

A gambling-zone permit has no expiry. It must specify the date from which the organiser may start the activity and the name of the zone where it may operate.

1) Liquidation of the organiser's legal entity under the prescribed procedure;

3) Breach of the gambling-operation procedure established by this Federal Law, including operation outside the gambling zone;

4) Repeated breach of the statutory information-supply procedure, or discovery that the information is inaccurate;

4.1. Unless federal law provides otherwise, the zone management authority cancels the permit from the abolition/boundary-change date specified by the Russian Government, if the change makes the organiser's operations impossible.

A permit is cancelled if the organiser has not begun operating in the relevant zone within three years of receiving it.

Bookmakers, totalisators and the unified transfer centre

Bookmakers, totalisators and their betting outlets, except those opened in gambling zones, may open only under bookmaker/totalisator gambling licences granted through the procedure determined by the Russian Government.

2.1. An organiser holding a bookmaker/totalisator licence may provide one of the following services:

The Unified Centre for Accounting for Transfers of Bookmaker and Totalisator Stakes must notify the government-authorised federal gambling supervisory authority and the unified gambling regulator within five working days of concluding or terminating its function agreement between an organiser and a credit institution.

A bookmaker/totalisator organiser must notify those authorities within five working days of opening/closing the relevant bank accounts at the unified transfer centre and starting/stopping stake acceptance.

Acceptance from individuals of funds, including electronic money but excluding postal transfers, and their recording and transfer to a bookmaker/totalisator organiser on the individual's instructions, is carried out by a credit institution, including a non-bank institution, appointed by the President on the Government's proposal and contracted with organisers to perform unified-transfer-centre functions.

3.1. On the unified gambling regulator's request, the unified transfer centre must provide information on recording and transferring an individual's funds, including electronic money but excluding postal transfers, to a bookmaker/totalisator organiser.

The unified transfer centre cannot itself be a gambling organiser.

Funds, including electronic money, accepted by the centre and transferred to an organiser on players' instructions must be credited to the corresponding organiser's bank account at that centre.

Winnings on interactive stakes, refunds under article 5.2 part 16 paragraph 1(b), and winnings under paragraph 2(b) on bets concerning events occurring before the self-exclusion list was updated, are paid from the organiser's account at the unified transfer centre. Payment is credited to the individual's bank account at that centre used for the relevant interactive stakes, or increases the electronic-money balance on the centre-provided payment instrument used for those stakes.

3.2. A bookmaker organiser must use special equipment in its ordinary or interactive-stake processing centre to record/process stakes, or stakes and interactive stakes respectively, record gambling results and calculate payable winnings.

3.3. A bookmaker organiser may determine the event on which a bet depends, which may or may not occur exclusively during the following activities:

4) Sports competitions organised by foreign federations, confederations, leagues or councils, included in the national unified calendar for the sport, with results published on organisers' official websites.

3.3-1. A totalisator organiser may determine the event on which a bet depends exclusively during horse trials at racecourses.

3.6. A totalisator organiser must use special equipment in its ordinary or interactive-stake processing centre to record/process stakes, or stakes and interactive stakes respectively, record gambling results and calculate payable winnings.

3.7. A totalisator must enable players to observe the development and outcome of the event determining the bet, including through special equipment.

3.14. An organiser accepting interactive stakes must follow the acceptance and payout procedures in article 5 part 6 and article 14.2 part 7.

3.15. Ordinary bookmaker/totalisator processing centres must contain communications equipment for real-time exchange with the unified regulator's information system concerning bets concluded; stakes accepted, including amount, acceptance date/time, events and conditions; calculated payable winnings; paid/unpaid winnings; returned unplayed stakes; cash operations at gambling establishments; settlement forms including cash; and transfers, including electronic money, between players and organisers in either direction. Interactive-stake processing centres must contain equipment exchanging the same information for both stakes and interactive stakes, including each amount, date/time, event, conditions and returned unplayed stake or interactive stake.

3.16. Through communications equipment in its ordinary or interactive processing centre, a bookmaker/totalisator must submit to the unified regulator's information system specified in article 4 paragraph 31 information about bets; accepted stakes and interactive stakes, their amounts, dates/times, events and conditions; calculated payable, paid and unpaid winnings; returned unplayed stakes and interactive stakes; establishment cash operations; settlement forms including cash; and player-to-organiser and organiser-to-player transfers, including electronic money.

3.17. A bookmaker/totalisator must refuse stakes, interactive stakes and payouts to a player subject to special economic measures under article 3.1 of Federal Law No. 281-ФЗ of 30 December 2006, “On Special Economic Measures and Coercive Measures”. This duty applies to a player identified or subject to simplified identification under Federal Law No. 115-ФЗ of 7 August 2001 on countering criminal-proceeds laundering and terrorism financing.

3.18. At the entrance to a bookmaker/totalisator or betting outlet, accessible information must describe gambling risks and possible consequences, together with a QR code encoding the article 6 part 11.1 webpage on financial services for investing spare funds to preserve them and/or earn additional income. The government-authorised federal rulemaking authority specifies the risk-information content. The investment-service information must not identify providers of banking, insurance or other financial services.

A totalisator organiser's fee cannot exceed thirty percent of the total stakes accepted from players.

1) Events whose outcomes depend on the organiser, its employees or players; actions connected with gambling or lotteries; or third parties other than sports organisers under part 3.3, using software or mechanical, electrical, electronic or other equipment to transform event, development and outcome data into numerical values/combinations, visual images, pictures or symbols, including those identical or confusingly similar to casino or gaming-machine imagery;

2) Activities in which the organiser, employees or third parties other than part-3.3 sports organisers transform event, development and outcome data into numerical values/combinations, visual images, pictures or symbols, including those identical or confusingly similar to casino or gaming-machine imagery.

Supervision and licence suspension

2) Regional gambling control/supervision is conducted by executive authorities of constituent entities containing gambling zones under this Federal Law, following regulations approved by their highest executive authorities.

a) Compliance by gambling-zone permit holders with mandatory requirements in article 5.2 part 14 paragraphs 1 and 4–7; article 6 part 3 concerning each gaming machine's designed average payout percentage and part 11; article 6.1 part 1 paragraphs 2–3; and article 8 part 5;

b) Compliance by bookmaker/totalisator licensees with mandatory licensing requirements under Russian gambling legislation;

2) Regional gambling supervision concerns permit holders' compliance with mandatory gambling-law requirements other than those assigned to federal supervision.

Article 15.2. Particular rules for suspending and cancelling bookmaker/totalisator gambling licences in relation to bookmaker organisers.

If targeted gambling contributions are unpaid or underpaid within article 6.2 deadlines during one reporting period, the federal gambling supervisory authority must issue a remedy order within ten calendar days of receiving the breach information. The bookmaker must remedy it within ten calendar days of receiving the order.

If the breach is not remedied within part 1's deadline, the authority suspends the licence until remedy, for no longer than ninety calendar days.

Once the bookmaker remedies the breach causing suspension, the federal supervisory authority must decide to resume the licence within ten calendar days of receiving confirmation.

If it is not remedied, the authority must apply to court for cancellation within ten calendar days after the part-2 suspension period expires.

After six consecutive months without bookmaker activity, the authority must seek licence cancellation in court within ten calendar days of receiving that information. The Russian Government defines inactivity criteria.

Repeated failure within one year to implement special economic measures under article 3.1 of Federal Law No. 281-ФЗ of 30 December 2006, and/or repeated breach of regulations issued under that law, requires the government-authorised federal gambling supervisory authority to seek bookmaker/totalisator licence cancellation in court.

From this Federal Law's effective date, new gambling and/or betting licences cease to be granted except bookmaker/totalisator licences granted under it.

Constituent-entity authorities may decide before 1 July 2007 to prohibit gambling from 1 July 2007 in their territory outside gambling zones, including particular establishment types.

Earlier constituent-entity decisions prohibiting or restricting gambling outside gambling zones, including particular establishment types, remain effective.

2) Paragraphs 78 and 79 of article 1 paragraph 9(a) of Federal Law No. 80-ФЗ of 2 July 2005, amending the laws on licensing specified activities and protecting legal entities/individual entrepreneurs during state supervision and the Administrative Offences Code (Collected Legislation of the Russian Federation, 2005, No. 27, article 2719).

Under the government-prescribed procedure, the authorised federal gambling supervisory authority adopts a reasoned decision to include a Russian legal entity, individual entrepreneur or foreign person in the list of persons to whom money transfers are prohibited, in relation to:

2.2. Legal entities registered in states/territories offering preferential taxation and/or no financial-transaction disclosure, included in the Finance Ministry's offshore list, cannot be the organiser's founders/participants, persons exercising substantial direct/indirect influence over management decisions, or persons/management organisations exercising its sole executive authority.

The government-authorised federal authority verifies information provided under parts 3, 9 and 11. The organiser is responsible under Russian law for its completeness and accuracy.

4.3. The unified gambling regulator transfers, suspends/resumes and redistributes targeted contributions to all-Russian sports federations and professional leagues. Allocation corresponds to the share of stakes and interactive stakes on competitions, including international competitions, organised by those federations or by professional leagues meeting article 19.2 of Federal Law No. 329-ФЗ of 4 December 2007, “On Physical Culture and Sport in the Russian Federation”, within total stakes on all sporting events, proportionately to stakes on their competitions and under government-approved rules. It also transfers and suspends/resumes contributions to the Russian Sports Fund under part 4.5. Transfers are due within twenty days after the quarter in which the calculation base arose; quarters run from the calendar-year start. Suspension, resumption and redistribution use information under article 19.1 part 12 of Law No. 329-ФЗ received from the federal sports authority, under government rules. Transfers to the Fund may be suspended by government decision.

Upon finding a bookmaker's breach of this article, the federal gambling supervisory authority must notify the unified regulator within ten days under its prescribed procedure.

Acceptance, recording and instructed transfer of individuals' funds, including electronic money but excluding postal transfers, to bookmaker/totalisator organisers is performed by a credit institution, including a non-bank institution, appointed by the President on the Government's proposal and contracted to perform unified-transfer-centre functions.

a) Gambling-zone permit holders must meet article 5.2 part 14 paragraphs 1 and 4–7; article 6 part 3 on each machine's designed average payout percentage and part 11; article 6.1 part 1 paragraphs 2–3; and article 8 part 5.

Repeated noncompliance within a year with article-3.1 special economic measures under Law No. 281-ФЗ of 30 December 2006, and/or regulations under it, requires the authorised federal gambling supervisory authority to seek cancellation of the bookmaker/totalisator licence in court.

Interactive-stake rules: definitions

These gambling, interactive-stake acceptance and payout rules (“Rules”) were developed by MELOFON LLC (“Company”, ООО “МЕЛОФОН”, “organiser”) to govern those procedures and gambling operations.

Government Resolution No. 1625 of 08.10.2020, “On Licensing Gambling Operations in Bookmakers or Totalisators”;

Government Resolution No. 1216 of 14.08.2020, “On Additional Requirements for Gambling Organisers”;

The company's gambling operations are conducted under licences dated 07.11.2012 No. Л027-00108-77/00395491 and 03.08.2021 No. Л027-00108-77/00395496.

1.1. Gambling is a risk-based winnings agreement between two or more participants, or with the organiser, under the Rules.

1.3. An interactive stake (“Stake”, “Deposit”) is money, including electronic money, transferred through electronic payment instruments, telecommunications networks including the Internet, and communications including mobile services, by the unified stake-transfer centre (ЕЦУПС, ETSUPS) to the organiser on players' instructions as a participation condition under the Rules.

Money serving as a participation condition is exchanged by the organiser for gaming coupons at one ruble to one coupon.

1.4. Gaming coupons (RUB) are electronic exchange tokens used during play on the organiser's site under the Rules and reflected in the player's account balance.

Coupons are not money or other property, including property rights, and do not confer an unconditional demand for payment from the organiser.

During play there is no actual money transfer between organiser and player.

1.6. The organiser is MELOFON LLC, conducting gambling operations.

1.8. A prediction is a player's selection of event outcome(s) offered on the organiser's site. The site/account may label “Prediction” as “Bet” solely for convenience; it retains the Rules' prediction meaning.

1.9. A bookmaker interactive-stake processing centre is the part of the establishment recording/processing accepted stakes, concluding bets with players when accepting interactive stakes, recording/processing those stakes using ETSUPS information, recording results and calculating payable winnings, and supplying stake, interactive-stake and calculated-winnings information to betting outlets and ETSUPS.

1.10. A totalisator interactive-stake processing centre records/processes accepted stakes, arranges bets between players when accepting interactive stakes, records/processes them using ETSUPS information, records results and calculates payable winnings, and supplies stake, interactive-stake and calculated-winnings information to totalisator outlets and ETSUPS.

1.12. A bookmaker is an establishment where the organiser concludes bets with players.

1.13. A totalisator is an establishment where the organiser arranges bets between players and pays winnings from their total stakes less its fee.

1.14. A player (“Client”) is a Russian citizen aged eighteen or over participating in gambling and concluding a risk-based winnings agreement with the organiser or another player concerning an event whose occurrence is unknown.

1.15. ETSUPS is a credit institution, including a non-bank institution, receiving individuals' funds, including electronic money but excluding postal transfers, recording them and transferring them to the organiser.

1.16. Insurance is the organiser's offer to a player to cancel a concluded prediction and recover part of its amount before the event outcome is known.

1.17. The gambling result is the organiser's final settlement of a player's interactive stakes after play ends. The organiser may end a player's gambling at any time at its discretion without reasons. Final settlement follows the Rules using the player's actions during play and the combined result of all predictions made by its termination.

1.18. The personal account is the company-site section showing player details, interactive stakes, coupons, predictions and paid winnings, through which the player interacts with the organiser under the Rules.

Service conditions and investigations

2.1. The organiser provides services concluding risk-based winnings agreements with players and arranging such agreements between two or more players. Its website interface supplies real-time information about official competitions and competitions organised by all-Russian federations, professional leagues, international sports organisations and foreign federations, confederations, leagues or councils (“sporting events”). Players can make one or more predictions, observe events determining their results, access live intermediate/final results and use other website functions. Services are provided for payment under these Rules.

2.3. The organiser may invalidate interactive stakes/predictions breaching the Rules and is not responsible for when it learns of the breach.

2.4. Before making a prediction, a player may obtain event information from the organiser. 2.5. Various prediction types are used.

2.7. Claims are accepted within thirty calendar days of the interactive stake, by written application sent to the organiser's registered address. 2.8. The parties do not recognise player-originated email documents/correspondence as legally binding. A written application is answered within thirty working days of receipt.

2.9. On suspicion of fraudulent winnings or hostile conduct, the organiser may take action. The listed conduct includes duplicate registration/multiple accounts; sharing account login/password with third parties; using others' details to access the site; simultaneous opposite/mutually exclusive predictions here or elsewhere intended to win regardless of the result; special software/equipment harming the organiser, its systems/software/equipment; and repeated same-outcome predictions to exceed its maximum limit.

2.11. Suspected fraudulent or hostile conduct is investigated for up to ninety working days from the investigation decision. The organiser may extend this, but not beyond one year from that decision. It may suspend the account until the investigation ends.

2.12. During investigation it may contact the client by any method, including visually identifying video conference, and request identity documents. It may seek telephone/email/residential or registration address, bank-card/account and other funding-instrument details, account/electronic-payment statements, device IP addresses used for predictions, source-of-funds evidence and other information/documents needed to establish identity, beneficiaries and beneficial ownership or investigate. It chooses submission methods and video service.

To confirm supplied information or collect further evidence, it may request information from state authorities, ETSUPS, all-Russian sports federations/professional leagues, international sports organisations, foreign federations/confederations/leagues/councils, other event organisers/organisations and gambling organisers. It may collect public-source information on client status, such as athlete, referee, coach or relative, and their role/participation in an event.

2.13. The organiser specifies a video-conference window and offers the client a choice of date/time within it; it may extend the window on request. Failure to choose a slot, attend the chosen slot or provide documents within the deadline may be treated as refusal to cooperate. If an investigation must end early because the player applies to the unified regulator for self-exclusion before its completion, the organiser may also treat this as refusal.

Refusal, forged/falsified/inaccurate/distorted documents or information, use of other devices during the video conference, third-party presence/participation or prompting may be treated as fraudulent/hostile conduct and stopped.

2.14. After investigation the organiser decides whether fraudulent or hostile conduct occurred. 2.15. It uses its own judgement and internal rules. Factors may include understanding of these Rules and relevant sports, knowledge of predictions and settlement, matching player/third-party registration or identification details (including relatives/family), separately or together: telephone, email, residential/registration address, bank-card/account/electronic-payment details, stake/prediction device IPs, identity-document details, unusual prediction activity or other indications of possible misconduct.

2.16. On suspicion of fraudulent/hostile conduct or Rules breaches, the organiser may cancel all predictions, settle all stakes at odds 1 and contact law enforcement.

2.17. It need not disclose to players or third parties its classification of the conduct. Nondisclosure of reasons does not remove its rights to cancel predictions, settle stakes at 1 or contact law enforcement.

2.18. It is not responsible for translating foreign team/player/venue names correctly. 2.21. It disclaims losses or damage claimed from website use or content. On the account owner's application it may invalidate the access password and disclaims losses from cancellation or temporary account unavailability while access is restored.

2.22. Acceptance of the Rules includes agreement that final decisions about accounts, stakes and predictions remain with the organiser. It may request documents and information about the source of deposited funds. Breach of the stated prohibition may be treated as fraudulent/hostile conduct and stopped.

Organiser obligations and identification

3.1.1. Stakes through the organiser's domain are accepted only from persons agreeing to the Rules. Registration and staking confirm familiarity and acceptance.

3.1.2. Participation requires identification. The organiser may request surname, given name and patronymic unless national custom provides otherwise, citizenship, birth date, INN, SNILS, identity-document details or documents establishing a foreign/stateless person's right to stay or reside in Russia, plus other identification information/documents.

3.1.4. Players recognised as winners are paid under the Rules' procedures and deadlines.

3.1.10. A person on the self-exclusion list must be denied establishment and online-account access.

3.1.11. If a fraud/hostility investigation is running when the self-exclusion list is updated with a player who applied to the unified regulator, the organiser must end it early with a decision under 2.14, terminate that player's gambling and pay the amount under 5.10.1–5.10.2 within five working days of listing.

3.2.7. Duplicate registration on the official domain is refused. Registration/re-registration using another email, telephone, third-party details or similar methods allows account blocking, refusal of interactive stakes, cancellation of predictions, settlement of all stakes at 1 and referral to law enforcement.

3.2.8. Daily withdrawal-request count and minimum/maximum withdrawal amounts may be limited without notice or explanation.

3.2.9. Suspected fraud/hostile conduct or Rules breaches allow cancellation of all predictions, settlement at 1 and/or account blocking.

3.2.11. Predictions may be invalidated for staff errors, prices inconsistent with event probabilities (including event-list typos or incorrect odds), evidence of unsporting conduct, Rules deviations, other evidence of incorrect predictions or technical inability to settle. The organiser's internal criteria determine odds inconsistency.

The organiser may photograph and video-record video conferences.

3.2.14. Player information, including identity-document details, may be updated. If previous information's accuracy is doubtful, transactions may be refused until clarification/correction is supplied and examined.

The organiser determines whether prediction insurance is available, its availability period and the refundable portion. It may withdraw an offer for any event/prediction at any time without explanation. It may invalidate the partial refund; if so, the prediction is settled on the event outcome. An obvious error in the partial-refund calculation may be corrected using accurate data.

3.2.16. The organiser may deduct gambling-operation commissions and service fees from the player's balance when it decides to charge them.

Player duties, rights and restrictions

The player must read the current Rules before depositing or predicting.

4.1.4. Replacement of the identification document must be reported immediately and identification repeated. 4.1.5. Otherwise the organiser and ETSUPS may block the gaming account until re-identification and receipt of all required information. Failure to comply allows withdrawal refusal.

4.1.7. Players must attend a requested video conference or other visually identifying communication. 4.1.8. They must provide personal and identification information at least annually and on every request.

4.1.9. On loss, disclosure to third parties or suspicion of loss/disclosure of the supplied password, it must be changed immediately.

4.1.10. Any shortfall in gambling commissions/service fees must be paid within thirty days of the debt appearing in the account or receipt of the organiser's notice.

4.1.11. Players must report enforcement proceedings, court cases where they are defendants, loans, circumstances requiring a bankruptcy petition, clear inability to meet financial obligations or mandatory payments on time, insolvency/insufficient-property indications, bankruptcy applications filed against them, an arbitration court finding a debtor/creditor/authorised-body bankruptcy application justified, or an intention to seek out-of-court bankruptcy through a multifunctional public-services centre.

4.2.3. Players may use prediction insurance where offered. 4.2.4. They may self-exclude by applying to the unified regulator for inclusion in the refusal-to-gamble list under the organiser's Responsible Gambling Regulation.

4.3.6. Sharing an IP address, device or local network with other players for registration/login/play requires prior consent. The player must explain the reasons beforehand. Without consent, shared access may be treated as attempted fraudulent winnings.

The listed restriction includes persons representing or previously representing this or other gambling organisers, and persons professionally analysing sporting events.

4.3.9. Technical/software tools intended to harm the organiser, its systems, programs or equipment are prohibited. The organiser classifies prohibited strategies/schemes using its judgement, internal rules and public information.

Stakes and withdrawals

5.1. Interactive stakes use electronic payment instruments and are transferred by ETSUPS to the organiser on players' instructions.

The organiser may extend payout time in individual cases. A fraud/hostility investigation suspends the payout clock for its duration. The organiser may decide unilaterally to pay winnings.

If a withdrawal request is incorrectly completed or technical problems prevent a final status, its amount is returned to the gaming account within three working days of the request.

The organiser may increase minimum withdrawals for particular payment methods or individually set client minimum/maximum amounts without notice or reasons.

5.7. Winnings are paid only from the organiser's ETSUPS bank account to players' ETSUPS bank accounts or by increasing electronic-money balances on ETSUPS-provided instruments used for the relevant interactive stakes. The organiser may determine payout methods independently.

5.10. A withdrawal request cannot exceed the displayed account balance. On receipt, the organiser considers recognising winnings in the requested amount. It may investigate fraud/hostile conduct; investigation time is excluded from the payout period under 5.5.

5.10.1. If the player is recognised as a winner, the requested winnings are paid. 5.10.2. If investigation establishes a breach or fraudulent/hostile conduct, all predictions are cancelled and all stakes settled at 1. Winnings are calculated as all stake/interactive-stake amounts multiplied by 1, less money already paid to the player.

5.11. Transfer or attempted assignment of a present/future winnings claim in breach of 5.8 is treated as fraudulent/hostile conduct, with payment under 5.10.2.

5.12. The organiser ordinarily charges no gambling-operation commission or service fee, but reserves the right to charge and deduct them when a player's gambling is terminated. Charges are covered by account coupons. A resulting negative balance must be paid within thirty days of its appearance or notification.

5.13. The organiser calculates, withholds and remits personal income tax on winnings under Russian legislation.

Prediction selection and result sources

6.1. The organiser determines and offers prediction subjects. 6.3. It uses official information about planned/ongoing events, disclaims inaccuracies in live results and directs players also to independent sources before completion.

6.4–6.6. It determines the opening, duration and closing of predictions on an event or event series, before or during the event(s).

6.8. Maximum prediction amounts are set separately for every event outcome. 6.9. The organiser may independently raise/lower event minimums and maximums. 6.10. Players choose an amount within those limits.

Outcomes follow official event-organiser information. The organiser may resettle if initially published final results are changed within twenty-four hours of first publication.

6.12. If no official result is published within twenty-four hours after completion, other sources may be used. 6.13. The organiser approves and publishes its principal sources on the site. If they lack the required information, any other independent source or video broadcast may be used.

6.14. If no official or independent information is obtainable within seventy-two hours after completion, predictions settle at 1. If it becomes known within twenty-four hours that an event is delayed more than twenty-four hours, the organiser decides whether predictions remain valid or refund. It also decides in individual cases where official data says an interrupted event will continue after twenty-four but within seventy-two hours.

6.17. Staff/technical errors, including obvious program, odds, result, handicap/total errors, inconsistent prices or unusual/incorrect odds, cause settlement at 1 regardless of outcome. A result incorrectly determined through system/staff error may be resettled.

6.19. Before actual event start, prediction amounts may be returned without explanation. 6.20. Suspicion of a prearranged event, including agreements between players, referees, coaches or teams about the final score/outcome, causes settlement at 1.

6.22. Displayed start dates/times are informational. Prematch LINE predictions offered after actual start settle at 1. Actual start for settlement is determined from official organiser information.

6.25. After a prediction, the player may continue by predicting another offered event. 7.1. Stakes are accepted on the following prediction kinds/types. 7.4. Other predictions and specialised settlement procedures with different timing/rules may also be offered.

A handicap is a predetermined artificial advantage or deficit in points, goals, sets, seconds or other units, set to balance outcome probabilities.

8.7. Singles combining two or more outcomes of one event may be offered.

Personal-data policy and winning agreement

The data subject(client) is a Russian citizen aged18or over participating in a risk-based winning agreement with the organiser or another participant concerning an uncertain event(1.1). The controller is MELOFON LLC, which alone or jointly processes personal data and determines its purposes, data categories and operations(1.2). Cross-border transfer means transfer into a foreign state to its authority, individual or legal entity(1.12). Categories include representatives and employees of corporate clients and counterparties. Clause6.9 states that the company does not transfer personal data to foreign states. Requests under9.3 go to the company address in the Unified State Register of Legal Entities. Purposes include access control, CCTV and protection of company premises.

The winning agreement is concluded at the organiser's interactive-bet processing centre. A participant is a Russian citizen aged18or over entering a risk-based agreement about an uncertain event. The organiser's rules govern gambling, interactive stakes, winnings and other directly or indirectly related interactions. The organiser conducts games under those rules; participants join by transferring interactive stakes and making predictions on offered events.

The agreement is accepted and becomes effective when the organiser first receives electronic funds from the participant as an interactive stake. Stakes and payouts follow the rules. Deposited funds are a condition of participation and are exchanged for gaming-establishment tokens. No gambling or service fee is charged except where the agreement or rules provide otherwise.

The parties recognise a valid account login and password as verification of the participant's simple electronic signature. Actions and electronic documents created or sent through those credentials are attributed to that participant. Assignment of a current or future winnings claim causes settlement under the organiser's rules.

The organiser may amend the rules by publishing a revised version or amendment notice online. Rules are available before play or predictions. Account actions include an instruction to transfer an interactive stake.

Sharing an IP address, device or local network with other participants for registration, login or gambling requires advance consent and an explanation of the reasons. Without consent, the organiser may treat this as conduct intended to obtain winnings fraudulently. Harmful technical or software tools targeting the organiser, its information systems, software, equipment or hardware are prohibited.

The stated declarations concern not representing or having represented this or other gambling organisers and professional sports-event analysis, not sharing an IP/device/network without prior consent, and not using harmful tools. Suspected breaches allow measures under the rules. The agreement lasts until gambling is completed and final settlement is made under the rules.

This agreement's claims provision requires a written claim to the legal address within10calendar days of stake acceptance. Participant emails and correspondence are not recognised as legally binding. Written replies are due within30calendar days of receipt, exceptionally extended to60calendar days where additional information work is needed. Final decisions on accounts, interactive stakes and predictions remain with the organiser. Unspecified matters follow the rules and Russian legislation.

The operator describes its website as supporting backgammon bets and live viewing of tournaments with real opponents, and markets strategic thinking, analysis and intuition in nardball. Dice are rerolled if they lie unevenly in the box, land outside the baffle box or fall on one another.

Article 19 repeals specified legislative provisions, including paragraphs 430–433 of Article 2(5) of Federal Law 127-ФЗ of 02.11.2004 amending Parts One and Two of the Tax Code and other legislation and repealing certain provisions (Collected Legislation of the Russian Federation, 2004, No.45, Article 4377).

The Esports menu offers outcomes for computer-game competitions. Market variety depends on discipline popularity, tournament scale and team/player prominence. The stated typical margin is 5–7% pre-match and 7–9% live. Available statistics include current and previous results and standings.

Breaching the stated prohibitions may invalidate interactive stakes only where those stakes were made under deception, violence or threat. Under 6.21, daily/round statistics predictions settle at odds 1 if any event in the round is void, except outcomes already unambiguously determined regardless of whether events occurred. Events held earlier or later remain valid for predictions made before their actual start.

Venue provisions refer to games in the same city, or the same country for international tournaments, and relocation from the scheduled first team's ground to the second team's or a neutral ground because of unsuitable conditions or obstacles. Moving to a neutral ground does not itself void predictions. Opponent order can be arbitrary in individual tennis and finals of major tournaments held in one country. 8.5 covers winning a tournament or advancing to the next round.

Where championship scorers tie on goals in regular and extra time, most assists breaks the tie; if assists also tie, fewer minutes played decides. Under 9.2.3, ice-hockey results use official championship/tournament websites listed as primary sources, except player-points predictions. Basketball regular time is 40 or 48 minutes: four quarters of 10 or 12 minutes of stopped-clock play according to competition rules.

9.4.1.11. Total tiebreaks normally counts end-of-set tiebreaks at 6:6 played to 7 points. Some tournaments also count a deciding-set tiebreak to 10 points. A super tiebreak replacing the deciding set never counts toward total tiebreaks, regardless of format. Under 9.4.4, that set's handicap/total uses points, while match handicap/total counts it as one game, 1:0 or 0:1. Example: 6:3, 4:6, 5:10 becomes 6:3, 4:6, 0:1 for match settlement, totalling 20 games. Under 9.4.5, an end-of-set tiebreak is one game; at 6:6 it is game 13 and the set ends 6:7 or 7:6.

9.4.7. A player/pair replacement in a team-country match, such as Spain–Switzerland, leaves all outcomes valid where names are displayed under team names. 9.4.10. Postponed/interrupted tennis predictions remain valid until the tournament ends. 9.4.11 reiterates arbitrary opponent order in individual tournaments and major finals in one country.

A baseball tie without extra innings, or still tied after the required extra innings, refunds P1/P2 at odds 1. Player-statistics predictions for nonparticipants and invalid predictions settle at odds 1. Under 9.8.8, postponed/interrupted snooker predictions remain valid to the tournament/championship end. Under 9.9.4, badminton player/pair replacement in team-country matches, such as China–Indonesia, leaves all outcomes valid; 9.9.6 keeps postponed/interrupted matches valid until the tournament ends. Table-tennis provisions 9.12.3 and 9.12.6 give the same replacement and postponement treatment, with Spain–Switzerland as the team example.

A table-football game is won at 5 or 7 goals according to competition rules. Where a game ends tied and no overtime is assigned, or required overtime also ends tied, P1/P2 settle at odds 1. Under 9.18.3, darts winners are determined by most legs or sets according to the competition. Bowls end counts vary; a player/team may win by first achieving the required number of targeted deliveries, and match settlement includes tiebreak results.

Cricket's best bowler takes the most opposing wickets. Ties use ECON, the ratio of deliveries and conceded runs, with lower ECON winning. A nonparticipating player's predictions settle at odds 1. Under 9.30.6, weather/otherwise interrupted cricket is settled using official competition websites.

Esports round/map counts follow the official game format and tournament round; the team winning more rounds/maps wins. Wrestling periods may be 2 minutes under tournament rules; a pin holds the opponent's shoulders to the mat for the prescribed duration. If finalists are known but the final is not played and a winner is assigned without a bout, bout/tournament-winner predictions settle at odds 1. Tournament-winner predictions remain valid until finalists are known.

A tiebreak at 6:6 is the 13th game and finishes the set 6:7 or 7:6. Pool matches use an odd number of frames; the player winning most frames wins (9.45.1). Postponed/interrupted pool predictions remain valid until competition end (9.45.5). Padel end-of-set tiebreaks count as one game (9.46.4); postponed/interrupted matches remain valid until tournament end (9.46.6).

9.47.7. Horse-race predictions settle at odds 1 if the race ends by technical defeat, is invalid/cancelled or has only one horse, and is not rerun that day. 9.47.8. All race predictions settle at odds 1 if the official result declares no winner.

11.2–11.3. Promotion rules apply only to participants; participation confirms having read and accepted them. Discovery of the specified disqualifying facts excludes the participant. If bonus or wagered amounts require an interactive stake, failure to make it during the promotion cancels those amounts without compensation. The main-account bonus equals the remaining bonus-account balance, capped at the amount originally credited. 11.14. General gambling terms apply unless promotion rules provide otherwise. 11.15. Promotion rules prevail over advertising.

The repeated tennis provisions retain total-tiebreak markets (9.4.1.11) and valid predictions after team player/pair replacement, such as Spain–Switzerland (9.4.7 and 9.12.3). Listed communication purposes include news and advertising campaigns. Responsible-play guidance advises stopping and seeking specialist or relevant organisational support when control is being lost.

Birthday, activity and VIP calculations

3.2 defines an eligible player as an individual meeting all stated requirements. OSP is calculated in units, each equal where applicable to RUB 1 or one gaming coupon. In this birthday calculation, OSP must be positive and at least 20,000 units; backgammon is excluded. 3.7 defines birthday as the annually recurring day and month of birth. The stated accumulator conditions require at least 3 events, each at odds of at least 1.5, with none recalculated to 1.

Activity points equal the documented cost at RUB 1/unit = 1 point. Multiple documents for different activity indicators are summed separately for each indicator and mathematically rounded to whole points. Sports activity may be documented once per calculation period in one request using named sporting-event tickets and player-paid receipts, or a fitness-service contract in the player's name plus a paid receipt, all issued in the current period. Movement activity may be documented once per period in one request using paid taxi/carsharing receipts and another document confirming trip date/time, all from the current period. Responsibility activity may be documented once per period in one request using insurance-premium receipts paid by the player and issued in that period. Request times use UTC+3.

Backgammon predictions do not count toward granting/changing VIP status. The stated freebet conditions require each event at odds at least 1.1, total multiplied odds no more than 3.5 and neither the overall odds nor any leg recalculated to 1. Another OSP definition uses one unit = one gaming coupon.

Clause 4.3.1 requires simultaneous satisfaction of the accumulator criteria.

Grand Accumulator conditions 2–5 require at least 500 gaming coupons(RUB), at least 3 events, each at odds at least 1.5 and none recalculated to 1; condition 10 excludes backgammon. Qualifying events must occur in the current period, total odds must be at least 1.3, stake at least 500 coupons(RUB), and settlement no later than the current period's end. Backgammon is excluded. Clause 5.5 sets winner selection by 20.02.2023 at 23:59(UTC+3). A further historical settlement deadline is 16.01.2023 at 02:00(UTC+3).

The relevant selection must be match P1 or P2. Predictions must be placed from 06.08.2026 at 15:00 to 30.05.2027 at 12:00(UTC+3). Under 3.2, the qualifying single settles as successful if the selected team leads by two goals during the match. For an accumulator, that qualifying leg settles as successful when its selected team leads by two goals; the whole prediction still depends on the other events.

Nardball and long backgammon

Melbet.ru describes a broad range of sports and the addition of online backgammon, presented as a discipline based on classic long backgammon with live broadcasts and betting on participants. Its account says leading bookmakers had offered online money backgammon for three years.

Nardball involves two competitors on a special board. Pieces move anticlockwise into the home quarter and are borne off; the first player to remove all pieces wins. Before play, pieces are placed on each opponent's right. Players alternately throw blue and red dice in a baffle box and move by the resulting numbers. Doubles double the available moves. Each player has fifteen pieces, placed in one row at points 1 and 13 on the right. A player cannot create a six-piece block if no opposing checker lies ahead.

A demonstration mode is offered before real-money bets. Online backgammon bets are accepted every 30 seconds, using preset rather than freely chosen stake amounts. Fixed-odds dice-combination bets exclude between 5 and 35 cells; excluding more combinations raises the odds. Live broadcasts offer markets such as which colour die is higher, exact die values and total points. Stated stake limits are RUB 10.00 minimum and RUB 1,000.00 maximum, with fixed offered amounts.

Gambling zones, land and permits

Krasnodar Territory gambling may operate under permits issued before 23.07.2014 (Law 121-ФЗ of 01.05.2016). The Government determines creation,abolition,boundary changes,names and other parameters unless Article 9(4.1–4.2) provides otherwise. Decisions are agreed with regional authorities; boundaries generally follow regional proposals. Amendment references include 278-ФЗ,479-ФЗ of 25.12.2018,121-ФЗ and 203-ФЗ of 22.07.2024.

Article 9(7.1) does not apply to the zone due to close before 01.01.2019 under 121-ФЗ. Part 7.2 applies after 10 years from 25.10.2018 to zones created before that date, except that closing zone. Under 7.4, actual losses to persons in 7.3 are compensated from regional budgets within federal interbudgetary transfers allocated for that purpose. Zone-creation decisions may impose additional establishment requirements and restrictions.

Zone authorities issue,reissue and revoke permits, exercise regional supervision and submit reports in the content/procedure set by the authorised federal authority. Article 11 covers land-selection criteria; annotations cite 278-ФЗ,479-ФЗ and 203-ФЗ. For a zone under Article 9(4.2) on land allocated to federal Olympic facilities not financed/built from budget or Corporation funds, landlord rights/duties pass to zone authorities from the Government's creation decision. Gambling-compatible permitted land use is deemed established from that decision.

Article 13 permits are issued by the zone authority under regional law or interregional agreement, including auction or competition. Noncompliance of the establishment with federal requirements is a listed revocation ground. Refusal to issue/reissue or revocation may be challenged in court. Article 14 governs opening and operation of bookmakers,totalisators and their betting points.

Bookmakers,totalisators and betting points may operate outside zones under this chapter (amendments 133-ФЗ of 13.06.2011,270-ФЗ of 31.07.2020,170-ФЗ of 11.06.2021), concluding risk-based agreements or arranging them between two or more participants. Outside zones they may not use slots,tables or software/mechanical/electrical/electronic equipment wholly or partly imitating gaming equipment, including identical or confusingly similar casino/slot-hall imagery,drawings or symbols. Parts 8–9 cite 493-ФЗ(version 12.06.2021). Article 14.1 was repealed from 01.09.2021 by 493-ФЗ.

Article 14.2. ETSUPS operates under the banking law. Its functions agreement must specify the information on bookmaker/totalisator stake transfers to be recorded and stored and the procedure. Amendments cite 575-ФЗ of 29.12.2025 and 213-ФЗ of 26.06.2026.

Article 15: bookmaker and totalisator premises

They cannot be housing,unfinished structures,temporary structures,kiosks,shelters or similar buildings; buildings with children's,educational,medical or sanatorium institutions; bus/rail/river stations,river ports,airports or urban/suburban public-transport stations/stops; rooms used for unrelated activities other than associated gambling services; public/municipal/state-corporation/state-company property housing public authorities,institutions,unitary enterprises,state corporations or companies; or buildings with religious organisations. The same exclusions apply to land containing those objects.

3.1. Bookmaker betting-point participant space must contain a bookmaker cash desk. Listed competitions include national federation/professional-league events and international sports-organisation events. 3.4 applies parts 3.1 and 3.3 to points inside casinos/slot halls too. 3.5 requires a totalisator cash desk; 3.8 applies parts 3.5 and 3.7 to totalisator points inside casinos,slot halls and bookmakers.

3.9–3.10. A bookmaker/totalisator staff zone, excluding betting points, must contain its processing or interactive-stake processing centre. These parts were introduced by 168-ФЗ of 16.10.2012 and amended by 358-ФЗ of 27.11.2017. 3.12. Processing centres must receive betting-point information on accepted stakes and paid/unpaid winnings and send calculated winnings,event progress and outcomes. Interactive-stake centres accepting ordinary stakes need the same communications equipment. Amendments cite 358-ФЗ and 493-ФЗ(version 12.06.2021). 3.13. Betting points require reciprocal equipment to receive settlement/event information and send stake and paid/unpaid-winnings information to processing or interactive centres. Parts 3.15–3.16 were introduced by 493-ФЗ(version 12.06.2021).

Betting on children's/youth sporting competitions is prohibited. Staff zones and processing centres may use only equipment for permitted operations, including recording/processing interactive stakes from ETSUPS information,concluding or arranging interactive bets,and reporting accepted stakes,interactive stakes and calculated winnings to betting points and ETSUPS.

Participant zones may use only equipment for cash transactions,stake acceptance and winnings; observing event progress/outcomes; obtaining stake and paid/unpaid-winnings information; and choosing a betting event. Staff/service zones and ordinary/interactive processing centres cannot use software or technical equipment to transform event data,progress or outcomes arithmetically or mathematically into numeric values/combinations or imagery,drawings and symbols identical or confusingly similar to casino/slot-hall imagery.

The prohibited equipment also includes equipment determining bet-event outcomes and accessed through telecommunications networks, including Internet and mobile communications. The Government may impose additional equipment requirements for bookmaker,totalisator,betting-point and processing-centre staff/service zones.

Article 15.1 provides state supervision, including federal supervision by the authorised authority under Government-approved regulations. Its organisation follows Law 248-ФЗ of 31.07.2020 on State and Municipal Control.

Gambling zones were to be created by 01.07.2007. Establishments lacking zone permits had to cease by 01.07.2009, except compliant bookmakers,totalisators and betting points. Implementing regulations were required within six months of the law's entry into force. The law took effect on 01.01.2007, except Article 17(1),Article 18 and Article 19. Article 17(1),Article 18(1) and Article 19 took effect on 30.06.2009; Article 18(2), one month after official publication.

The accompanying regulatory index also lists 64-ФЗ of 22.04.2010,281-ФЗ of 03.11.2010 and 99-ФЗ of 04.05.2011, alongside the amendment register above. It reiterates the previously specified 2011–2026 amendments, Article 4(3.1) introduction and revisions, Article 5(8.1),part 11 and parts 2.1–2.2 annotations, and the Krasnodar pre-23.07.2014 permit provision under 121-ФЗ. The repeated references retain their respective versions: 493-ФЗ of 30.12.2020(version 12.06.2021),170-ФЗ of 11.06.2021,270-ФЗ of 31.07.2020,242-ФЗ of 20.07.2020,355-ФЗ of 02.07.2021,503-ФЗ of 19.10.2023,157-ФЗ of

The regulatory index repeats the Article 9 exceptions: part 7.1 does not apply to the zone closing before 01.01.2019 under 121-Ф3; part 7.2 applies ten years after 25.10.2018 to older zones except that zone. It also repeats the 278-Ф3/479-Ф3/203-Ф3 land annotations,133-Ф3/270-Ф3/170-Ф3 operating annotations,575-Ф3/213-Ф3 ETSUPS annotations and358-Ф3/493-Ф3(version12.06.2021) processing-centre annotations. Federal supervision follows Government-approved regulations. General commencement remains01.01.2007, with Article17(1),18(1) and19 commencing30.06.2009.

Account interface, access and company information

The site describes primary information sources for prediction settlement. Its promotional account presents Melbet as a licensed Russian online bookmaker with ruble betting. Login may use a phone number,email or ID, leading to profile/account-management blocks. A single covers one event outcome, with gross winnings calculated as stake × slip odds. A system combines several accumulators and potentially singles, so one losing accumulator does not necessarily lose the entire system.

One description advertises more than30sports, highlighting football,table tennis,tennis,volleyball,basketball,hockey,the Olympics and esports. Another advertises those sports plus more than45sports in the line. Pre-match and live markets cover varied events; claims of high odds and below-market margins are the operator's descriptions. Live TV streams and Live Info statistics accompany in-play markets, where margins are described as higher than pre-match. The dedicated Esports menu is regularly updated and provides broadcasts and team betting.

Smartphone access is available through a lightweight website without additional software and free official applications for phones/tablets. The Android APK is offered directly on the site and generally requires permission to install from unknown sources. iOS users are directed to the App Store. Accounts are for adults. To bet, log in, select a pre-match/live outcome, enter the stake in the slip and save it. The operator claims good service,reputation and no payout delays through financial discipline; these are company statements. Official domain: melbet.ru.

Live and Combo interface

Live betting means placing bets while a sporting event is underway. Melbet's promotional descriptions stress changing odds,rapid decisions,filters by sport/country and P1/X/P2 outcomes,insurance and reacting to play. Claims that these tools ensure profit or greater winning chances are marketing statements. Today's matches are collected in one section. Graphic match broadcasts are available without registration on the full and lightweight sites; market-movement displays show changing odds. Mobile site and app betting are supported. The stated sequence is login → Live → discipline/event → outcome odds → stake in the slip → save. Entering Live and loading the relevant sport displays its match overview.

Combo Prediction combines up to10compatible outcomes from one sporting event at automatically calculated combined odds. Availability and combinations depend on the event. Open an eligible event and select compatible markets; the example is P1 + Exact Score + Over = Combo Prediction.

Gambling, interactive-stake and winnings rules: additional clauses

The rules refer to Law244-Ф3 of29.12.2006, anti-money-laundering/terrorism-financing Law115-Ф3 of07.08.2001 and other applicable instruments. Placing an interactive stake confirms knowledge and acceptance of the rules.1.2 defines winnings as money payable when the prescribed gambling result occurs. Increases/decreases in transferred interactive stakes are accumulated when calculating winnings and personal income tax.1.5 defines odds as the numeric likelihood indicator multiplied by the prediction's coupon amount. Multiple predictions after an interactive stake form a single gambling game for determining its result.1.11 defines an event as a sporting or other contest eligible for a prediction.

Gambling ends after more than36months of account nonuse or when the participant applies to ERAI for exclusion.2.6 reiterates that any stake or agreement to a risk-based winning arrangement unconditionally confirms acceptance. Exceptional written-request consideration may extend to90working days from receipt where additional information work is needed.

2.10 lists conduct treated as fraudulent or hostile: automated-prediction software/technical tools; false,incorrect or invalid personal data; strategies guaranteeing continual balance growth,including mathematical-probability schemes; knowing an event result when predicting; and influence through being an athlete,official,coach,relative or person acting for a participant. During a video conference, the client may not use additional devices,have third parties present/participating or receive prompts.

2.19. Errors in information under2.18 do not justify stake/prediction refunds.2.20. Amended rules apply to stakes/predictions accepted from the amendment date. The liability provision also concerns use/misuse of site content,inability to connect/use,operating or transmission delays,communications failures and content errors,typos or omissions. Account holders are responsible for access and confirm that account actions are their own; if third parties act, the holder bears responsibility and consequences.

2.23. Participants warrant that play uses their own income within Tax Code Article208, not third-party funds. As the person knowing the funds' origin and choosing their use, the participant must prevent use of non-income funds,others' money,borrowed money or other prohibited funds and bears responsibility.

Organiser duties include compliance(3.1.3), recording interactive stakes from ETSUPS data(3.1.6), calculating winnings(3.1.8) and reporting stakes/winnings to ETSUPS(3.1.9). Rights include refusing stakes/predictions without reasons(3.2.2), deciding winnings entitlement(3.2.3), starting,suspending,ending or resuming play(3.2.4), voiding predictions or suspending payouts during investigation(3.2.6), cancelling predictions on known outcomes even if the system had not updated(3.2.10), contacting clients including by video(3.2.12), and limiting stakes,rejecting repeat same-outcome predictions or reducing odds without notice/reasons(3.2.13). Insurance after an outcome becomes known is a listed cancellation circumstance.

4.1.3 requires full stake payment.4.1.6 requires predictions totalling the interactive stake. A single's odds must exceed1.1; an accumulator's total odds must exceed1.1; each system leg must exceed1.1. Clients bear consequences of refusing visual contact/video or requested information.4.2.1–4.2.2 provide information on acceptance conditions and winnings subject to rules. Insurance is possible only before the event ends and before the predicted outcome is determined.

Prohibitions include participation by those able to influence results as athletes,officials,coaches or relatives,or acting for such third parties(4.3.7), automation tools(4.3.8) and strategies guaranteeing continual balance growth,including mathematical-probability schemes(4.3.10).5.8 makes winnings personal and nonassignable,including future claims.5.9 states that the displayed account balance is neither winnings nor the gambling result.

Event timing and settlement

6.2. Predictions concern one or more outcomes unknown at placement.6.7. Minimum prediction: RUB25. If a completed event's published result is later cancelled or changed, settlement uses the original publication.

6.15. A not-yet-started event postponed by no more than24hours remains valid; beyond24hours predictions are refunded unless another rule applies. For baseball and ice-hockey matches in formats3×5,3×7,3×10 or3×15, the limit is8hours. NBA,NHL,NFL and MLB games not played on the scheduled day settle at odds1, except playoff games or an incorrectly stated date.

6.16. Events interrupted and not resumed/completed within24hours are treated as played or void under sport-specific rules. Tennis,snooker,badminton and table tennis are exempt from this limit. Played events use results at interruption; void events settle at odds1 except already determined outcomes independent of the final result, such as a team scoring,both teams scoring,first scorer or first-half winner. If the event will restart from scratch, already determined outcomes settle and all others use odds1.

Predictions made between an erroneous settlement and its correction remain valid. A technical error incapable of affecting event results or settlement leaves original odds in force. Predictions after an outcome is determined settle at odds1. LIVE predictions remain valid when official information says an interrupted event will resume later.6.23 lists the home team first; if played at the second team's ground, predictions normally settle at odds1 subject to the specified exceptions.

Prediction types and calculation examples

6.24 permits predictions using all or part of an interactive stake. A single requires one or several related outcomes of one event. Gross return is stake × odds: 1,000 on P1 at2.5 returns2,500 if P1 wins; a refund uses odds1.

An accumulator requires correct outcomes of several unrelated events. If related events are included, only the highest-odds event counts. Multiply all leg odds, then the stake. Example:800 on Georgia–Belarus P1 at2, Norway–Serbia Draw at3.5 and Bulgaria–Hungary P2 at2.5 gives800×(2×3.5×2.5)=14,000 if all win. One losing leg loses the accumulator; an odds1 leg does not affect other legs.

A system combines equally staked accumulators with the same number of legs. Select total events and system size; divide the total stake by the number of combinations and sum their returns. Example: a2/3 system, stake1,200, with Scotland–Israel Draw at3.5,Iceland–Romania P2 at2 and Valencia–Atalanta P1 at2.5 has returns2,800+2,000+3,500=8,300. If Scotland–Israel Draw loses, combinations1and3lose and combination2returns2,000. Two or more wrong outcomes lose this2/3 system. An odds1 leg does not affect the other outcomes.

Pre-match predictions are accepted only before actual event start; LIVE predictions only between actual start and finish.8.1.6 denotes either side winning/no draw as12.

Handicaps and totals

Handicaps may be fractional(0.5,1.5,2.5…) or whole(1,2,3…), positive or negative. A positive handicap permits losing by less than that margin; a negative handicap requires winning by more. An exact match to a whole-number handicap refunds at odds1.8.2.1 Handicap0/Draw No Bet selects a winner, with a draw refunded at1.

8.2.2. Asian quarter handicaps/totals use odd multiples of0.25 not divisible by0.5, such as0.25,0.75,1.25,3.25,3.75. Split the stake equally between values0.25above and below the quoted line, at the same odds; the return is the sum of both halves.

Settlement	Return calculation	Example
Both halves win	Stake × odds	1,000 on H1(-0.25) at1.85 splits into500 on H1(-0.5) and500 on H1(0),

Settlement	Return calculation	Example
		both at1.85
Half wins,half refunds	Stake × (odds+1)/2	1,000 on Over2.75 at1.7 splits into500 Over2.5 and500 Over3
Half loses,half refunds	Stake × 1/2	1,000 on H1(-1.25) at2.6 splits into500 H1(-1.5) and500 H1(-1)
Quarter-total split	Apply each half's outcome	1,000 on Over3.75 at2.9 splits into500 Over3.5 and500 Over4

Asian-line odds in accumulators and systems are calculated as for singles.

8.2.3. European handicap expresses a whole-number score advantage(2,1,-1,-2,etc.) and offers P1,Draw,P2. Add the handicap score to the actual final score and settle from that adjusted result. The examples each stake1,000 at1.9 on handicap(1:0): P1 wins when the adjusted score is1:0; Draw wins when it is3:3; another example selects P2 under the same handicap.

The European-handicap P2 example wins at adjusted score2:3. If the adjusted result is tied, P1/P2 selections lose rather than refund.

8.3. Total means the combined or individual number of points,goals,games,etc., expressed in fractional or whole values. A0:0 score counts as even. Time markets(first goal,first corner,etc.) round seconds upward to the next minute. Combined-outcome examples are P1 + over3.5yellow cards + under10corners, and team1kicks off + team2scores first + draw. All components correct gives stake×odds; one odds1component with all others correct refunds the entire combination at1; any wrong component loses.8.8 Win to Nil/Clean Win means winning without conceding a goal,puck,etc.,or losing a game/set as applicable.

If different players achieve two or more listed outcomes, each corresponding selection wins. Scoring methods: header; direct free kick,including direct corner; direct penalty,excluding laid-off or saved/rebound penalties; or open play by foot/other legal means excluding headers,free kicks,penalties and own goals.

A comeback win means the eventual winner was behind at some point. Shirt-number sums count each goalscorer once even with multiple goals. Added-time markets use the displayed TV/fourth-official number, not actual time played; later increases/reductions do not change the original figure used.

A video review counts only when the referee signals a rectangle and goes to the monitor. Goal Check/Penalty Check notices,other check messages,hand-to-ear gestures and discussion with assistants do not count. Simultaneous entry of multiple medical teams for either/both sides counts once. Entry without treatment and treatment outside the field do not count.

Rest-of-match P1/Draw/P2 ignores the score before placement and uses final score minus the placement-time score. Example: P2 placed in minute76wins if the remaining-play adjusted score is0:1.

Interval-result P1/Draw/P2 uses the score at interval end minus the score before its start. In the minute16–30example the adjusted score0:1makes P2correct. Interval totals use the same subtraction;

Over1.5for minutes16–30loses at0:1.

Top scorer counts regular-time and extra-time goals; complete ties after the stated tiebreakers share top-scorer status. If a current scorer transfers to another club championship, participation in more than half the original championship's matches means settlement by final standings; if the player did not participate in more than half, all top-scorer selections,including other players,refund at1.

9.1.3. A sole goal is both first and last.9.1.4. Own goals count in match totals but not individual team totals.9.1.5. Cards count only for players actively on the field. A half-time card to a first-half player not yet substituted counts in the second half at minute46. Cards to unused/substituted players,coaches/staff or after the final whistle do not count. Card timing is when shown.

9.1.6. Awarded but untaken corners do not count.9.1.7. Woodwork hits count if the ball remains in play. Direct woodwork-to-out-of-play or woodwork-to-goal without another player/referee touch does not count. Multiple post/bar touches without an intervening player/referee touch count once.

9.1.8. Interrupted games not resumed/completed within24hours count as played if minute70has begun for90-minute games,minute19for24-minute games,or minute16for20-minute games. For void interrupted games, already determined independent outcomes settle; others refund at1.9.1.9. An unstarted game awarded a technical result is void,all predictions odds1.9.1.10. A started game stopped permanently with a technical result settles at the actual interruption score.9.1.11. LIVE predictions accepted after actual interruption because the system lacked notice refund at1; official information establishes interruption time. If simultaneously placed live result/statistics predictions show different clocks, the result-market clock governs.

Ice hockey

9.2.1. Markets use regular time except Game Winner,which includes overtime/shootouts. Regular-time markets exclude them. For totals including shootouts,the shootout contributes1:0 or0:1; e.g.2:1shootout becomes1:0.

9.2.2.25	Winner decided in overtime/shootout
9.2.2.28	Comeback victory yes/no
9.2.2.29	Video-review total over/under

The indicated winner outcome includes overtime/shootouts; if the game remains tied after regulation and ends tied, it refunds at1. Player points equal goals plus assists; several players in a scoring move may receive points. The penalty market uses total penalty time,not the number of two-minute penalties.

9.2.4. An interrupted game not resumed/completed within24hours counts as played after at least50minutes; otherwise it is void. Game Winner on a played-but-interrupted tied game refunds at1.9.2.5. A technical victory/defeat does not establish settlement: the game is void and all predictions refund at1.

game interrupted and not resumed/completed within24hours counts as played after at least35minutes.9.3.4 states that a technical result is not a settlement basis.

Tennis

9.4.1.1–2: player/pair P1/P2 in match,set or game; .3–4: player/pair handicap in match/set; .5: game total over/under; .6: game parity. P1P1 means player1wins first set and match; P2P2 means player2does both.

9.4.2. A pre-match format change leaves P1/P2 and set predictions settled on the final result; other markets refund at1.9.4.3. Disqualification,retirement or inability to continue after start refunds all outcomes except those already unequivocally determined.9.4.6. Pre-start withdrawal refunds all markets.9.4.9. Referee-awarded penalty points count. Example:6:4,3:2 becomes6:4,3:3after an award to player2,who wins game6of set2. Awarded games/points use the minimum points needed to win the current game. Example: match1:0(6:1),set3:1,game40:15; a penalty game to player2makes set3:2. The stated game total is8points and score40:P2: player1already had3points(15,30,40), while player2needs4more(30,40,advantage,winner). This principle governs game-point markets.

Volleyball and beach volleyball

Standard volleyball is first to3sets; sets to25points and the fifth to15,with a2-point margin. At24:24 or14:14play continues to a2-point lead,without a maximum score. Other formats play2–3sets.9.5.2. In tied playoff legs,such as3:2 then2:3,a Golden Set to15determines advancement; it is excluded from return-match markets. Beach volleyball is first to2sets,to21points with a deciding third to15,and a2-point margin;20:20/14:14continues until that margin.

Clause	Volleyball/beach-volleyball market

9.5.4.5–6	Team1/team2 set handicap
9.5.4.7–8	Combined/individual points over/under,match/set
9.5.4.9	Point parity,match/set
9.5.4.10	Set winner and point margin

9.7.5.10	Batter/pitcher statistics

9.7.7. Player-statistics selections require the named player to start participating; pitcher statistics specifically require the named starting pitcher,not a substitute.9.7.8. Interrupted games not resumed from the stopped inning or completed within24hours count as played after5complete innings. A restart from scratch refunds the original game except already determined outcomes. P1/P2 on a played-but-interrupted tie refund at1.9.7.9: a technical result is not a settlement basis.

Snooker

9.8.1. Matches generally use an odd number of frames; most frames wins.9.8.2. A stalemate with no productive red-ball play may restart at0:0 on the referee's suggestion with both players' agreement; frame markets use the replayed frame. If play continues and a player misses three consecutive shots,the opponent is awarded the frame,but all frame predictions,including P1/P2,refund at1. If a player disagrees with the referee,continues and pots balls,predictions stand and use the final result.

9.8.3.3–4 offer player1/player2 match/frame handicaps; .5–6 list team1/team2 set-count handicaps.

Snooker markets continue: total frames(9.8.3.7),frame points(.8),first to target points(.10),frame point parity(.11),first/last ball potted by player1/2(.12),and first potted colour yellow,green,brown,blue,pink or black(.13). Predictions remain valid while awaiting start/resumption.
