How to read the inventories

The underlying common list contains 344 unique positions. Each operator profile selects ceil(N×50%)=172 positions, then includes its stated original components. The withdrawal list removes round-half-up(30% × the deposit-list size), with rounding fixed before selection. Each withdrawal inventory is a subset of its deposit inventory.

Currencies, banks, wallets, gateways and special-purpose infrastructure retain different types. A listed name is not proof that it is a direct Indian payment method. Actual executed transfers are the DEP/WD episodes, not every inventory position. Foreign routes and intermediaries keep their original scope. A fiat display equivalent is not a new asset or credit.

1Win: display currencies, assets and languages

INR is the first displayed currency for the target country. Other rows describe selectable display/account profiles. The actual episode remains denominated in INR. Switching hi-IN → en-IN → hi-IN retained wallet data and did not create a second account.

MyStake: display currencies, assets and languages

INR is the first displayed currency for the target country. Other rows describe selectable display/account profiles. The actual episode remains denominated in USD. Switching hi-IN → en-IN → hi-IN retained wallet data and did not create a second account.

Betclic: display currencies, assets and languages

INR is the first displayed currency for the target country. Other rows describe selectable display/account profiles. The actual episode remains denominated in INR. Switching hi-IN → en-IN → hi-IN retained wallet data and did not create a second account.
